

Bad girl.

I won't disappoint you, I always say "I can"
No strings attached, that's the sort of girl I am
I am the kind of girl girlie girlies spurn
Men are my friends, men never learn
And if I have no girlfriends to share my secrets with
I simply shrug my shoulders and say "Live and let live"

I find good girl's nice boys are kind and treat me well
First I play at special friends and then at kiss and tell
I know I am a wanton, breaking hearts and banks
Taking things I want 'n not bothering with thanks
First I make promises, and keep them for a while
Then I do the opposite and walk away and smile

I don't do double dutch or dress for every day
I always look wicked and someone else can pay
My sole interest is money, my other one is power
And I never do a thing to improve the shining hour
I'm never in the kitchen, or doing household chores
Although I am a working girl and I do work indoors

Girlies hate my hearty laugh, they hang around and titter
I lead the way, have my own say and I am so much fitter
I dye my hair and pluck my brow, I shave beneath my arms
Wink at other peoples boyfriends and aim to do some harm
